My dear Mrs Manley:

I know you will pardon me for writing you but there is a bare possibility that your letter may have been misplaced by some one at the Club.

The hundred placards you sent were widely distributed and I hope you played to a capacity field. I know the representation from Trenton and vicinity was a very healthy one.

I tried hard to be present at the game but circumstances would not permit.

If our letters haven't crossed I know I shall be favored with a reply from you at an early date.

Until then, I am,

Yours sincerely,
